

Parents Killed on Eve of Son's Graduation

Last night tragedy struck the family of a Hope High School student who is scheduled to graduate tonight.

The parents of Glenn Ray Warrendorf were killed in a two-car accident near Livingston, Texas. Mrs. Charlotte Warrendorf, 43, was killed instantly and her husband, Richard D. Warrendorf, 45, died later in a hospital. Both occupants of the second car were killed.

The Warrendorfs who lived at Humble, Texas, were enroute to Hope for the graduation of their son which is scheduled tonight at First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Warrendorf was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mart Yocom of Hope. Glenn Ray had been staying with his grandparents for the past two years, attending school here.

Mrs. Warrendorf is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Louis Grafton.

Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Warrendorf will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Methodist Church of Humble, Texas. Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery of Humble.

Can't Accept School Bids

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—When the Blytheville school board opened bids for a new junior high school it got only three. And now it can't accept either of the low two.

The attorney general's office advised Board Secretary Dale S. Briggs today that the low bidder is disqualified because he listed an unlicensed plumbing subcontractor and the second low bidder because he didn't list his subcontractors at all.

Briggs raised the questions but didn't say whether the board planned to accept the third low bid if the other two were held ineligible. Nor did he identify the bidders.

Sen. Byrd Says Cuban Trade Is Blackmail

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said today the Internal Revenue Service will have to answer to Congress if it rules that tractors-for-prisoners donations are tax deductible.

President Kennedy called on Wednesday for contributions to a private committee he helped organize to buy 500 tractors to send to Cuba's Fidel Castro in exchange for 1,200 prisoners taken in the ill-fated invasion.

The statement touched off bitter debate in the Senate Wednesday night, with the Democratic leaders defending Kennedy's stand against Republican critics.

As a part of a policy in which Kennedy said the government is "putting forward neither obstacles nor assistance to this wholly private effort," the President noted that "tax exemption is granted as a matter of course to any 'charitable' organization engaged in the rehabilitation and assistance of needy refugees."

Challenging this, Byrd said representatives of the IRS will be called before the Senate Finance Committee, which he heads, to justify any such formal ruling.

"A ruling of this kind would be a distortion of existing regulations," Byrd said. "This is not charity, it is blackmail."

The IRS has drafted a letter to the citizens committee, presumably saying that it can have the tax deduction privilege if it meets certain conditions.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-De., said in a separate interview that until the IRS makes its ruling formally, Kennedy's statement that contributions would be tax exempt is not binding.

In other developments, newspaper publisher John S. Knight Wednesday declined an invitation to join the Tractors for Freedom Committee.

Knight, publisher of the Detroit Free Press, Miami Herald, Akron (Ohio) Beacon Journal and Charlotte (N.C.) Observer and News said he received the invitation in a telegram from the committee. Invitations were sent to 50 prominent people, the committee said.

In his telegram from Detroit to the committee, Knight said, "I vigorously oppose any deals, however well intended, which would strengthen Castro in Latin America and subject the United States to further scorn and ridicule."

In Chicago, Eleanor Roosevelt, a committee co-chairman, said a group of "experts in agriculture and machinery" will go to Cuba—probably next week—to determine what type of tractors Castro wants.

Youth Accidentally Shot to Death

YELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Authorities say a five-year-old youth was accidentally shot to death at Pyatt Tuesday. Marion County Coroner Tank Ray said Tony Lee Richardson was struck by a charge from a shotgun held by his 12-year-old uncle, Jimmy Dale Richardson. Ray said the older boy accidentally pulled the trigger. The young victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Richardson of Pyatt.

Injuries Fatal to Vandale Man

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — An elderly Vandale man died in a hospital here Wednesday of injuries suffered when struck by a car earlier in the week. He was R.L. Fikes, 73. State Police said he stepped into the path of a car driven by Jack Pennington, also of Vandale, on a rural road near Vandale Tuesday night.

Old Town of Washington Plans Centennial Banquet and Dedication Wednesday

Pioneer Washington plans a Civil War Centennial banquet Wednesday, May 31 at 7 o'clock at which time special recognition will be given to Mr. and Mrs. William A. King of Memphis, whose donations made possible reconstruction of the Old Tavern, and Albert Sims of Albuquerque, N.M. who financed rebuilding of the blacksmith shop in which the Bowie knife was first made.

These buildings will be dedicated in ceremonies preceding the banquet with Neil Bolinger, Little Rock attorney, as speaker. The Hope High school band will play. At the banquet in the school gym, Governor Orval E. Faubus, will be principal speaker.

According to Mrs. Charles A. Haynes, the executive director of Pioneer Washington, the month of May has seen the historic old town make great strides in its effort to interest the public in early Arkansas history. Almost every day in the month has brought large numbers of school, patriotic and civic groups to visit points of interest. She estimated more than 1,000 school children from Hope, Nashville, Texarkana, Mineral Springs, Saratoga, Carthage and Badewau have visited in May. DAR chapters from Hope, Nashville, Texarkana and Prescott and a district UDC group have held meetings and tours during the month.

Mrs. Haynes said the Foundation Board and citizens of Washington are making elaborate plans for the Centennial Banquet which will highlight the month's activities. The menus have been prepared by a professional caterer and will be served by ladies of Washington, dressed in Old South costumes.

Negroes, Mexicans Battle in California

IONE, Calif. (AP)—Rioting between Mexican and Negro youths erupted Wednesday night during a track meet at California's biggest institution for juvenile offenders. Ten youths were injured, two seriously, officials said. From 50 to 100 inmates battled for one-half hour with sticks, lengths of pipes and other weapons. Police, highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and guards finally used tear gas to put down the brawl at Preston School of Industry. Curtis Fuller, 17, a Negro from Venice, was stabbed five times in the back and upper chest. His condition at Sacramento County Hospital was described as critical. Jerry Hastings, 18, white, from Santa Ana, suffered a stab wound in his side. His condition was termed serious.

JFK Asks More Money to Speed Up Space Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called on Congress today to beef up the military, strengthen foreign aid, attack unemployment, and pump $7 billion to $9 billion into rocketing a man to the moon.

To meet an extraordinary challenge of extraordinary times, Kennedy summoned the legislators and the nation to undertake "a great positive adventure" on behalf of freedom everywhere.

And his was an extraordinary message—a second report on the State of the Union, for delivery in person before a joint Senate-House session, almost on the eve of the President's departure for momentous conferences abroad.

It was broadcast and telecast by major networks. Kennedy asked for $1.5 billion new appropriations now to get on with his programs plus a recognition from Congress and the country that billions more will be required in the future.

Speaking of the objective of "landing a man on the moon and returning him safely to the earth," a project some experts believe may require 9 or 10 years, the President said: "Let it be clear that I am asking the Congress and the country to accept a firm commitment to a new course of action—a course which will last for many years and carry very heavy costs—an estimated $7-$9 billion additional over the next five years. If we were to go only half-way, or reduce our sights in the face of difficulty, it would be better not to go at all."

Kennedy said the nation faces an "extraordinary challenge to protect the jeopardized freedom of the world."

"It is a contest of will and purpose as well as force and violence—a battle for minds and souls as well as lives and territory," Kennedy said in describing Communist efforts to seize and exploit the newly emerging nations.

"And in that contest, we cannot stand aside."

"... This nation was born of revolution and raised in freedom. And we do not intend to leave an open road to despotism."

The message called for a sweeping reorganization of military combat power, an increase in the Marine Corps, and a build-up of the land and air weapons needed for brush fire wars and paramilitary (guerrilla) operations.

The President committed the nation to take "a clearly leading role in space achievement"—a blunt notice to the Soviet Union that this country intends to make a contest of the race to the moon and planets.

"For while we cannot guarantee that we shall one day be first, we can guarantee that any failure to share this effort will make us last," the President said.

"Space is open to us now; and our eagerness to share its meaning is not governed by the efforts of others."

"We go into space because whatever mankind must undertake, free men must fully share."

Kennedy asked $679 million of new funds for space exploration, including $531 million for the moon project.

He asked $535 million of new foreign aid funds, shared equally between military and economic assistance.

The economic portion, $250 million, would go into a presidential contingency fund, he said, to be used only upon the President's finding that a sudden and extraordinary drain on the regular funds made necessary the use of this emergency reserve.

The need for such funds, he said. Continued on Page Four

500-Gal. Liquor Still Discovered

MENA, Ark. (AP) Polk County authorities disclosed Wednesday that a 500-gallon whiskey still was discovered near Grannis and said four persons were charged with possession of untaxed whiskey. Officers said the still, which showed signs of recent use, was found on the farm of Luther Bryant. Bryant was charged with possessing an illicit distillery and Mr. and Mrs. Morris T. Evans and Mrs. Mildred Affolter were charged with possessing untaxed whiskey. All four were freed on bonds ranging from $500 to $2,000.

'Bus Riders' Spurn Jail Bonds, Rallies of Protest Planned

Bankers for $60 Million Bond Issue

Hot Springs (AP) — Members of the Arkansas Bankers' Association before adjourning its 71st convention went on record as approving the proposed $60,000,000 construction bond issue. It was unanimously approved.

The issue, opposed by the Arkansas Education Association, is Gov. Faubus' plan and will be voted on in a special referendum. Gov. Faubus has not set the time for the vote.

Marshals Are Withdrawn in Alabama

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy today withdrew the major portion of the force of U.S. marshals sent into Alabama last week to help halt violence surrounding the "Freedom Riders."

As of this morning, there were 666 imported federal officers at Maxwell Air Force Base outside of Montgomery.

Kennedy said that all but 100 of these would be returned to their home posts during the day.

Kennedy said "a number of factors influenced this decision."

He said these included the continued presence of the Alabama National Guard in Montgomery, the protective actions taken by the Alabama State Police, and "the assurances we have received from the Alabama delegation—its senators and congressmen—as well as from leading citizens and officials and finally the strong legal action we have taken in the last few days."

The legal action referred to the order obtained from the U.S. District Court in Montgomery enjoining the Ku Klux Klan and others from interfering with interstate travel through Alabama.

Kennedy said that with the dispersal of the major portion of the imported marshals, Deputy Atty. Gen. Byron White, who has been in charge of them at the Air Force base, will return to Washington before the end of the day.

Calls for Curb Executive Branch

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., in telegram to President Kennedy, Gov. Orval E. Faubus and other state and federal officials, Wednesday called for the nation to unite against what he called "the usurpation of power by the executive branch." He accused the federal government of encouraging racial agitators, but did not mention the use of federal marshals at Montgomery, Ala., in "Freedom Riders" incident.

U of A Grant Totals $9,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Urban Renewal Administration Wednesday disclosed a $9,000 grant to the University of Arkansas to help finance development plans for Lonoke, Siloam Springs and Trumann. The grant will be matched with local funds and will be used to prepare maps, plans, charts and other graphic material for growth and development plans for the three communities. The work is expected to take 21 months.

Many More Busloads Will Be Sent South

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—With a plea for a cooling off period falling on barren ground, the 27 "Freedom Riders" jailed on their arrival in Mississippi's capital city turned down offers of bail today.

They declined offers by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to make the $1,000 bail for each.

The NAACP planned a mass rally in Jackson Friday to protest the jailing of the "Freedom Riders," both white and Negro when they arrived in two buses from Montgomery, Ala., Wednesday.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A Negro integration leader, the Rev. S. Seny Sr., said he was shot in the wrist today by a group of white teenagers in a passing car.

The 62-year-old Methodist minister, who has been active in the fight against segregation in Montgomery, said a bullet struck him as he left his home in the Madison Park community of the eastern outskirts of Montgomery.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Four white college professors and three Negro students were arrested today while trying to eat at the white lunch counter at the Trailways bus station.

A deputy sheriff took them into custody while they were seated at the lunch counter.

Also arrested was a Negro integration leader, the Rev. Wyatt T. Walker, executive director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in Atlanta.

All eight were charged with a breach of the peace.

Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett questioned Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's plea for a cooling off period on "Freedom Riders" to Alabama and Mississippi. Barnett claimed the attorney general was not specific.

"We don't want tourists to stay away," Barnett said. "We can assure the traveling public there is no danger in Mississippi. This state is as peaceful and quiet as any in the nation."

Barnett said the "Freedom Riders" probably were disappointed because they failed to stir up trouble in Jackson.

The handling of Wednesday's incidents, Barnett said, showed that Mississippi "is capable of handling its own affairs, as it always has."

"I feel wonderful," he added. "I am so happy everything went off smoothly."

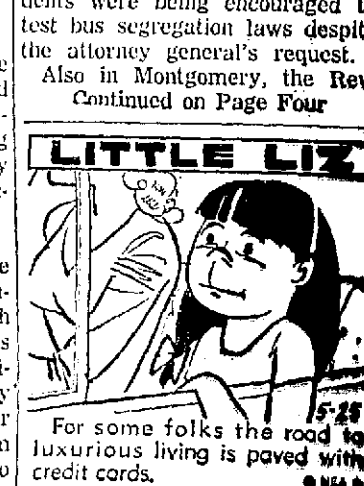

Earlier, Barnett asked "Freedom Riders" to stay out of Mississippi or go straight through without stopping in the state. He also warned they would be arrested if they violated Mississippi laws.

Negro leaders vowed they would increase efforts to crack bus segregation in the Deep South, despite the Jackson jailings and the attorney general's cooling off plea.

Still another group of "Freedom Riders"—including white college professors from the North—arrived Wednesday in Montgomery, Ala., to make another stab at cracking "Jim Crow" barriers. The two groups jailed at Jackson and the third party all plan to end their trips in New Orleans, which has virtually no segregation in city bus terminals.

At Montgomery, the Rev. Martin Luther King, Negro integration leader, said the movement to break down racial barriers would be continued. He said students were being encouraged to test bus segregation laws despite the attorney general's request.

Probe of Top
Brass Dispute
Is Called

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep.
Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., said today he has asked the Navy to halt the transfer of Capt. Cooper B. Bright until Congress can investigate Bright's dispute with certain admirals over an inflatable plane project.

Flood, member of the House subcommittee handling defense appropriations, told a reporter he has so written to Secretary of Navy John B. Connally.

He said he told Connally the veteran Navy captain's transfer should be set aside "until such time as responsible congressional committees can examine the project further on its merits" and until it can be determined whether the transfer "could be attributed to this operation."

Bright, 52, who once headed a Navy-industry study of the inflatable plane concept, said Wednesday that on orders from superiors last November he destroyed data on a new version he designed to take off straight up from virtually any kind of ship.

At the same time, he said, he was directed to talk to nobody about the matter — an order he said was relaxed in February to allow off-duty conversations.

Bright contended the novel in-flatable plane idea was suppressed. He attributed this to some admirals who he said feared it posed a threat to the future of carriers.

committees last year, Bright clashed with Vice Adm. John T.
Hayward, deputy chief of naval operations for development. Hayward said he rejected the project and defended his action as "a sound technical decision."

Bright said that during this time he was told by Adm. James S.
Russell, vice chief of naval operations, to stop pushing the project.

The Navy had no comment
Wednesday on Bright's charges.

propriations for the Arkansas River Development program June 12. A large delegation from Oklahoma and Arkansas will get 45 minutes to present their case for approval of Arkansas River appropriations recommended by the administration.

Swim Pool Bonds

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — Bond issues totaling $250,000 to establish a civic center, to acquire park sites and to construct two swimming pools were approved by Magnolia residents Tuesday. A $105,000 bond issue to buy some old school property for use as a civic center was approved 594-483.
An $85,000 issue to get park sites and build pools passed 657-410.

Prisoner Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Cowart of Monticello, Ark., was one of three American soldiers awarded prisoner-of-war pay by the U.S. Supreme Court Monday.
The three were accused of helping their communist captors during the Korean War. They refused repatriation, but changed their minds after 18 months in Red China. Cowart now lives in Alabama.

How you can help your boy if he says—
“I want to be a newspaperman.”

Help him the same way you would if he set his sights on any other profession . . . medicine or law or teaching. First, make sure he knows exactly what he's headed for. Then, show him the best road to get there.

Newspaper work naturally attracts young people. It offers prestige, excitement, good pay, the opportunity for rapid advancement — and, most important, the satisfaction of making a real contribution to society. But, in return, it requires dedication, hard work, civic responsibility and basic integrity.

If your boy understands the responsibilities (as well as the rewards) of newspaper life, he's ready to prepare for it. The time for him to start is right now — while he's still in high school.

Newspaper work is divided into five major fields. Each requires special skills and special training for a successful career in it:

NEWS REPORTING AND EDITORIAL WRIT-ING — often considered the basics of newspaper work: gathering, reporting, editing or analyzing the news . . . or commenting on it for the newspapers' opinion pages. These tasks require curiosity, perseverance, the ability to write clearly. They call for training in a journalism school or department, or a broad liberal-arts college education.

BUSINESS — under the business department come accounting and finance, and frequently personnel work and sales promotion. Useful here are the ability to plan ahead, to get along with people, good business judgment and a knowledge of bookkeeping and office management. Some business department positions call for a college degree in accounting or management. In the case of sales promotion, a man needs ability in creative copywriting or art.

ADVERTISING — the department that furnishes the newspaper with most of its revenue. People who sell advertising successfully often have a broad educational background in business, marketing, accounting and psychology. Above all, they enjoy meeting and talking with people, following through on sales problems and presenting new advertising ideas imaginatively.

CIRCULATION — Training and supervising newspaper boys and men who sell and distribute newspapers is the heart of circulation management. Sales training, general business experience and a broad education (including psychology and marketing courses) are helpful here.

PRODUCTION — the departments that turn words, photographs, ink and paper into the finished newspaper. The departments offer technical job opportunities in typesetting, photoengraving, stereotyping and press operation. Although a high-school graduate can qualify for many trainee jobs, a technical education is very helpful. An increasing number of graduate engineers are being employed in the production department.

Work on high-school or college newspapers is especially valuable training for any of these newspaper fields.

The whole newspaper story can't be told here. To learn more about its exciting employment opportunities, mail the coupon on this page. You'll receive a 22-page illustrated brochure, "Career Opportunities in the Daily Newspaper Business," a list of accredited journalism schools and other guides. Why not mail it today?

Festival Time Again

Once again Hope is being honored by having The Poultry Festival, June 2. All of us remember the festival last year — the good food and the wonderful entertainment. This year we are looking forward to the program that has been arranged, along with a good meal of Bar-B-Q Chicken. Let's all work, and give our support to make this an even better affair than last year. See all of you at the festival.

Telephones of the Future

The other day I was having lunch with some friends here in Hope. We were talking about how the telephone has changed the last few years, such as color phones, wall phones and the Princess — the first compact phone.

This conversation reminded me of some of the ideas for the new kinds of telephone we're working on now.
Some of these ideas will never leave the drawing board, while others will fall by the wayside during testing.

But some will be successful, and will eventually be available for your use.

For instance, how would you like a phone with the dial right in the receiver? This is called the Dial-In-Hand phone, because it has everything you need to make a call right in the small receiver. The dial lights up when you lift the receiver, but nobody can see it when you're not using the phone.

Or how about a Picturephone, which sends along a picture of the caller, as well as his voice? It means people will be able to see each other as they talk on the phone.
Although the Picturephone already has been successfully tested, it will be some time before it is available to the public.

But there's a new phone you may have in the not too distant future. It's a small new wall phone, called the Slimphone, not much wider than a Princess phone. It should come in handy in the kitchen and other rooms, since it doesn't take up much space.

These are just a few of the new kinds of telephones we're working on for the future. But even today we enjoy telephone services and equipment most of us in Hope never dreamed possible just 10 years ago.

Asks Big Alimony

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mary
Sue Everly says her husband—rock 'n' roller Don Everly—should be able to pay her $1,750 monthly alimony and child support if he can afford to buy an $80,000 yacht.

In a separate maintenance suit, charging cruelty, which she filed Monday, Mrs. Everly said her husband bought the yacht after they parted last August.

Jayceettes Plan Variety Show

Hope Jayceette President, Mrs. Carter Russell had a call meeting of the organization at her home Tuesday, May 23. Business matters were voted on, and it was decided to have a Variety Show in July. The group also agreed to make uniforms for each member. They will be black and white dresses. Cold drinks were served to 12 members.

Mary Lou Park Honored

To celebrate the birthday of Miss Mary Lou Park on Monday May 22 her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Park, had a hamburger supper for her at their home. About 15 girls enjoyed the party. The honoree was the recipient of many nice presents.

Cynthia Foster Honored

Two parties in honor of Miss Cynthia Foster, a HHS senior, have been held this week. Sunday night, May 21 her mother, Mrs. Marguerite Foster, entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Young. Red and white was the color scheme used for the patio supper was enjoyed by six couples.

On Tuesday, May 23, Mrs. Corner Boyett was hostess for a brunch in honor of Miss Foster. Spring flowers decorated the Boyett home, where 10 classmates were served a tasty meal buffet style.

Cosmopolitan Club Meets

"May" was the decoration theme for the Cosmopolitan Club dinner at the Diamond on May 23. From a May Pole in the center of the table green and white streamers led to each place. The 15 places were marked with tiny May baskets filled with spring flowers.

After the dinner, Mrs. Kelly Bryant reviewed the book, "Life Without George" by Irene Kampen. Mrs. Jim McKenzie turned over the duties of president to Mrs. George Newbern Jr., and the latter appointed committees for the coming year.

Tuesday Bridge Club

Mrs. R. E. Cooper, Mrs. C. P. Tolleson and Mrs. R. V. Herndon were guests of the Tuesday Bridge Club which met with Mrs. Tom Wardlaw on May 23.

Pretty day lilies, roses and pansies were used as floral decorations.

Mrs. Tolleson was high scorer and Mrs. Dewey Camp won the game prize.

During the refreshment hour strawberry shortcake and coffee were served to two tables of players.

Tuesday Bridge Club

Magnolia blossoms and roses graced the home of Mrs. E. J. Whitman on May 23 when she entertained her Tuesday Bridge Club. High scorers were Mrs. George Newbern Jr., and Mrs. George Robison was second high.

Coming and Going

Leta Jo Leslie, Hughes Springs, Texas is visiting this week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tarpley.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ed Waller and Mrs. J. W. Perkins went to Norman, Okla., this weekend for Oklahoma University graduation exercises Sunday. The ceremony was cancelled however, when a tornado almost struck and a driving rain storm developed.

Mrs. Lloyd "Coop" is in Dallas visiting the Louis Howard family.

Mrs. Mittie Wardlaw of McCaskill is spending the week in Hope with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wardlaw.

Criticism Saddens

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower says he is "saddened and surprised" at criticism of the tractor-prisoner swap with Fidel Castro being negotiated by a group of American citizens.

Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and president of John Hopkins University, is co-chairman of a drive to raise $15 million for tractors.

"By whatever name you call it," he said Tuesday, "the central problem is 1,214 decent people. Use a call for help."

Presbyterians Approve Race Movement

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The passive resistance movement against racial segregation, now stirring upheavals in the South, today had the backing of the United Presbyterian Church.

An action approved by the denomination's General Assembly "commends and encourages those persons who are seeking by non-violent means to bring about equality for all."

"Kneel-in" campaigns also were hailed as offering churches a chance to show whether they believe in the Gospel, and welcome worshippers regardless of race.

In the closing session of the eight-day policy-making assembly the church Wednesday also condemned any "deliberate failure" by law enforcement officials to safeguard all persons from mob attacks.

Letters to President Kennedy and the Justice Department were authorized to convey the church's stand, and also commend them for prompt federal action against

Arkansans to Speak

CINCINNATI, OHIO (AP)—Three Arkansans speak at the 57th annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association this week. They are Dr. Ben Saltzman, president of the Arkansas Tuberculosis Association; Dr. W. T. Kniker of the University of Arkansas Medical Center, and Dr. Hugh A. Browne, medical director of the McRae Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

recent violence in Alabama.

The actions drew a sharp dissent from the Rev. Robert Kribbs, of Athens, Ga. "I feel it will hurt our church," he said. "It will make our task more difficult in dealing with the problem."

On another high-voltage subject, the policy-making assembly for the first time acknowledged that any Presbyterians "in honesty and sincerity choose to drink moderately."

Both those who do and those who abstain were urged "to respect each other and constructively work together in dealing with the problems of alcohol."

In the past, the church has condoned only abstinence. The new policy also encouraged abstinence, but adds: "All drinking must be evaluated not in terms of one's right to drink or not to drink, but in the light of Christian responsibility to our fellow man in society."

Hers Is a Hell on Earth

By HELE WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: After 15 years of Hell on earth I am wondering if one must suffer a lifetime for a single mistake.

Because my husband posed as a single man I became involved, being young and glib. As a result his wife named me co-respondent. Rather than see our child fatherless, I married my betrayer.

The only thing he and I have in common is our four children. He doesn't get his way, he becomes a snarling animal. To him sex is the be-all and end-all of human existence. He is slowly destroying me. Anyone who didn't know his mentality would say, "Talk things out." How can you with a person who is "always right?"

The children hear him curse me because the pittance he gives me for food is not enough for other essentials. I've been through high and business school and had a year at university but can find no work which pays enough to support me and four children. I have told him that one day we would leave. He says if I do, he will kill me. Because of his twisted thinking I fear he might. I'm at the end of my rope. —Des-

Dear Desperate: The more you tolerate a bad condition, the worse it grows. Like an abscess, it should be lanced. Have the courage to take the aggressive and you'll be surprised at the constructive forces rally to back you up. Practice the philosophy of my favorite proverb, "When you pray, move your feet."

Dear Helen: My boy friend and I broke up a couple of weeks ago. He didn't love me any more. What he doesn't know is that late this summer I am going to give birth to his child. If I was to tell him, he would marry me for the baby's sake. I would rather go to another state, give birth to our baby and raise it myself. But I think a child should grow up with both his father and mother. What do you think? Please put this in the newspaper. I know of three other girls who are in the same fix and await your answer. —P.G.

Dear P. G.: A child is normally better off with the enveloping love of both parents, provided the parents love one another. You say this boy no longer loves you. Therefore, your original decision to go it alone is the wiser course.

If you need help, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for social agencies in your area.

Dear Helen: My sister has been going out with a boy for a month. I like him too—in the very same way my sister does. It grows increasingly difficult to hide my feelings. If I could only talk it out with either my sister or someone who would understand. Mother would only call me a foolish child. Should I make known the situation to my sister? —E.

Dear E.: Edith Wharton based a story on a similar situation and called it "The Old Maid." That sister never revealed her feelings. It would be the boy's place, not yours, to speak up, if it was you and not your sister, whom he loved. To pirate your sister's boy is very wrong and you know it, else you wouldn't raise the question. Listen to that still, small voice called conscience!

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful! leaflets available. Write for "Turn Your Spare Time into Cash."

No Action on Commendation

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senators today argued over, but took no action on, a resolution to commend President Kennedy's dispatch of U.S. marshals to Alabama to prevent race riots. No more than a dozen senators were on the floor during the debate, and only about half of them took any part in the discussion. Under an agreement reached Wednesday, one hour was allotted for debate on the resolution. With no vote taken on it at the end of that time, the resolution automatically went back to the Senate's legislative calendar. A motion to call up the resolution for action could be made in the future, but it would be subject to unlimited debate.

Death for Two in the Sex Murder Case

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) - An all-male jury has sentenced a female impersonator and his girl friend to death in the electric chair for murdering a real estate dealer.

Both Leslie Douglas Ashley, 23, former of Hot Springs, Ark., and Carolyn Lima, 18, appeared to take the verdict calmly Wednesday night. Their lawyer Jack Night, said he will appeal.

The pair was convicted of the Feb. 6 murder of Fred A. Tones, 46, whose bullet riddled body was found burning in a ditch. It had been soaked with gasoline.

Neither Ashley nor Miss Lima would comment as they were taken back to their cells.

Knight challenged the morals of Tones and said the couple killed Tones only after he threatened them during a sex party.

"Those defendants should be executed," Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe told the jury.

"It is inconceivable this prostitute and homosexual, with murder on their conscience, could point a finger at the man they murdered and burned and say he is immoral."

has been "illustrated by recent events in Southeast Asia"-a reference to the Communist drive into Laos and the threat to neighboring nations.

The total foreign economic aid program, to be boosted $2.65 billion if Congress accepts the new presidential recommendations, is "both minimal and crucial," Kennedy said.

His 5,000 word message called also for a step-up in the Voice of America and related programs, bringing the U.S. Information Agency budget to more than $121 million for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The new funds would be devoted to additional radio and television programs in Latin America and Southeast Asia "to tell them of our confidence in freedom," Kennedy said.

He gave notice, also, that he will later submit requests for a stepped-up shelter program to protect the civilian population from radioactive fallout in event of a massive nuclear attack.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Kennedy, who has warned that he would ask Americans to sacrifice, prepared to ask Congress today for a possible billion-dollar first installment.

Kennedy was to address a joint session on what the White House described only as "urgent national needs." Live television and radio coverage was announced.

Other sources have revealed the President would call for higher spending and greater national effort on four fronts-space, foreign aid, defense, and at home - more jobs for the unemployed.

Several administration officials have guessed that the new proposals would add $1 billion or more to the $84.2 billion budget for the coming fiscal year.

Whatever the total, it would be a deferred sacrifice so far as the taxpayers were concerned, for the cost would have to be tacked on to the $2.8 billion deficit already scheduled, and met by new borrowing.

The House Wednesday authorized a boost of $126 million in funds for space exploration. But Capitol sources said they expected Kennedy to ask nearly five times as much-about $600 million.

That would bring to about $1.85 billion the total to be spent next year in efforts to narrow the Soviet lead in the race to the moon and planets.

Foreign aid was expected to get equal presidential emphasis. Some believed this was why Kennedy chose to lend drama and impact to his message by delivering it in person to the Senate and House members assembled in the House chamber.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson Wednesday added his voice to the foreign aid build-up, with spe-

Wyatt T. Walker, executive director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference of Atlanta, said his organization would pay no attention to the attorney general's appeal for a cooling-off period.

The Negro minister said his group would continue its efforts and would try to broaden them.

The "Freedom Riders" were charged with breach of peace and disobeying an officer.

When each bus stopped at the Mississippi-Alabama border, the Alabama troops got off and were replaced by Mississippi National Guardsmen.

National Guard reconnaissance planes and helicopters followed each bus throughout the entire trip.

The riders expressed some resentment against the police and military preparations and the extensiveness of the press coverage.

"This is not a normal situation," protested the Rev. James Lawson of Nashville, Tenn., who headed the first group. "It does not carry out the purposes of our project. We are not traveling as private citizens but as protectees of a government. We are not seeking violence."

The group sang hymns, including a special "Freedom Riders Hymn" composed for the trip.

About the same time the first arrests were being made here, the youthful attorney general-brother of the President-made his plea for a cooling-off period in Washington.

Kennedy declined comment on the arrests.

"Innocent people may be injured," said the attorney general. "A mob asks no questions." "A cooling-off period is needed," he added.

Nearly 700 deputy U. S. marshals are being held at Maxwell Air Force Base near Montgomery for use in any emergency. They were ordered there earlier when violence erupted in Alabama's capital city over the arrival of the "Freedom Riders."

In Washington, a Justice Department public information officer declined to say if the U. S. marshals would be sent into Mississippi.

Jackson Wins One That Drops the Dodgers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Right-hander Larry Jackson, who lost three in a row after being sidelined by a broken jaw, won his first for the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night with a 7-2 victory over Los Angeles that knocked the Dodgers out of second place in the National League race.

San Francisco padded its lead to a full game again by beating Cincinnati 5-1. Pittsburgh took over second place with a 7-3 decision over the Chicago Cubs, and Philadelphia defeated Milwaukee 7-1.

In the American League, Detroit stayed 4½ games ahead, getting past Minnesota 5-4 while trailing past Minnesota 5-4 while second place Cleveland whipped the Los Angeles Angels 7-1. New York defeated Boston 3-2. Baltimore swept a two-night double-header from the Chicago White Sox 2-1 and 5-3, and Kansas City beat Washington 6-5.

Jackson, now 15-6 lifetime with the Dodgers, gave up eight hits and seven walks, but left a dozen Dodgers stranded. Relief ace Lindy McDaniel finally nailed it, coming on and striking out Tommy Davis with the bases loaded in the ninth.

The sixth-place Cards, winning their second in a row, scored once in the first on Bill White's home run and then beat Roger Craig (3-3) with two in the second on singles by Stan Musial, Daryl Spencer and Alex Grammas and a force out by Hal Smith. Jackson doubled home two more in the sixth.

Winner Mike McCormick (5-2) of the Giants and the Reds' Jim O'Toole (4-4), a pair of young southpaws, duelled through six scoreless innings before San Francisco scored three unearned runs in the seventh. The Giants sewed it up with two more in the eighth. Art Mahaffey (5-3) beat the Braves with a four-hitter. Jim Woods and Charlie Smith hammered homers for Philadelphia, with Smith's two-on shot triggering a six-run fourth that beat Don Nottebart (2-3).

Clem Labine mopped up with a perfect 2-1-3 innings of relief for the Pirates as Wilmer Mizell (1-4) beat the Cubs for the 14th time in 15 decisions. Dick Eidsworth (1-4) was the loser.

Travs Again Defeat the Lookouts

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mobile and Macon needed only an hour and a half to complete their latest Southern Association duel but Macon Manager Max Macon wouldn't mind the games lasting a bit longer and producing a few more runs.

Macon dropped a 1-0 decision to the Bears in the swift contest and slumped into the cellar last night just a few hours after ownership of the Peaches passed from one Macon group to another.

Another change occurred at the top of the standings when Birmingham downed Atlanta 12-8 in 10 innings to take sole ownership of the league lead from Chattanooga which bowed 2-0 to Little Rock in 10 innings. Shreveport got sharp pitching for the second night in a row and topped the Nashville Vols 6-1.

River Dragged for Bodies of Two

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — The body of one of two Camden men who drowned while on a fishing trip Wednesday was found today, caught beneath an overturned boat in the Ouachita River.

Officers said Clyde Purifoy, 54, had his arm caught in a gas can and was hanged under the boat. A search continued for the body of Virgil Harbor, 38, also presumed drowned when their boat capsized.

Officials said Purifoy's wife swam to safety after the boat overturned about two miles below Bradley Ferry Landing.

Fire Capt. James C. Word said that after Mrs. Purifoy swam to safety she walked about five miles to a highway and caught a ride here with a passing motorist and reported the incident to authorities.

Word said sheriff's officers, firemen, police and members of the Camden Boat Club were taking part in the search.

Grass Control Plan Legal June 1

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A 1961 law authorizing creation of districts for control of Johnson grass does not become effective until June 8 the attorney general's office today advised Mississippi County Judge A. A. Banks.

Banks said a group of landowners was circulating a petition to get the 100 names required by the act to call a special election to set up a district.

Banks was told the petitions can be filed June 8 and the election commission then is required to hold an election within 60 days.

Man Convicted of Manslaughter

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — J. D. Atkins, 33, of Arkansas, Okla., was convicted Wednesday of involuntary manslaughter in the slaying of a Fort Smith man and was sentenced to three years imprisonment.

Atkins had been tried for first degree murder for the death of Buford Loyd, 37, a truck driver. The jury of nine men and three women reduced the charge and fixed punishment.

Loyd's body was found in his truck on a road near Fort Smith last Feb. 20. He had been struck on the head.

Atkins admitted having been drinking with Loyd the night of Feb. 17 and said he struck the other man once on the chin after they quarreled. He denied killing or robbing Loyd.

Skeleton Found in Wynne Field

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — Cross County Coroner W. C. Kernodle today began an investigation into the finding of a human skeleton on the Roy Callison farm near here.

Kernodle said Joe Irby, a Wynne Negro, brought the skull and a leg bone to his office Wednesday night.

"I'm going out today to look at it," Kernodle said. "But I'd say it's been there a long, long time."

Kernodle said Irby told him the skeleton was lying on its back, on top of the ground, in a wooded area about 300 yards from the nearest road.

The coroner said he could not remember any missing persons report in this area in a number of years.

Urges Negroes to Defy Segregation

NEW YORK (AP) — A Negro leader urged Negroes today to defy segregation in Southern airline and railroad terminals as well as bus stations.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, issued the call in a memorandum sent out from CORE's headquarters here to 730 adult and student leaders of the organization.

Farmer, one of the 27 "Freedom Riders" jailed Wednesday in Jackson, Miss., telephoned the memorandum to CORE headquarters from Montgomery, Ala., prior to the bus trip to Jackson.

"The time to act is now," the memo said in part.

Coach Picked for East Cagers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John Overstreet of Manila will head the coaching staff of the East basketball team in annual high school all-star game Aug. 12. He will be assisted by Bill McCurley of Sloan-Hendrix Academy at Imboden and Curtis Merrill of Helena Central High School. Overstreet's Manila team lost to Hettleton in the finals of last year's Class A state tournament.

Detroit Stays in Front, White Sox Dip Lower

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox, as surprising in their flop as Detroit's early romp in the American League race, lost their fifth in a row and dropped within percentage points of last place with 2-1 and 5-3 two-night double-header sweep by Baltimore Wednesday night.

Detroit stayed 4½ games in front with a 5-4 victory at Minnesota while second place Cleveland beat Los Angeles 7-1. New York defeated Boston 3-2 and Kansas City knocked off Washington 6-5.

In the National League, San Francisco gained a one-game edge with a 5-1 decision at Cincinnati while St. Louis knocked the Los Angeles Dodgers to third place, 7-2. Pittsburgh took second with a 7-3 victory over Chicago's Cubs. Philadelphia rapped Milwaukee 7-1.

The Orioles, just a half-game behind third place New York, beat Bob Shaw (3-3) in the opener on a tie-breaking homer by Gus Triandos in the seventh inning. Skyny Brown (4-1) was the winner.

A home run also decided the nightcap. Ron Hansen's three-run shot brought the Birds from behind in the eighth after Lopez, who started reliever Russ Kemmerer out of desperation, threw in the three top men in his bullpen brigade—Turk Lown, Frank Baumann and Gerry Staley. Lown put the tying run on base, Baumann (2-4), the loser, put on the winning run and Staley gave up the homer. Wes Stock (1-0) won it.

Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito each hammered home runs and drove in two runs for the Tigers. Both homers were off loser Camilo Pascual (4-4). Don Mossi remained unbeaten and won his fifth, but gave up a two-run homer by Zoilo Versalles and needed Bill Fischer's relief to save it.

Gary Bell won his second in four decisions with a four-hitter for the Indians, striking out 13 and blanking the Angels on one hit until Len Wagner homered in the seventh. Johnny Romano hit a home run for the Indians, who then chased Jerry Casale (1-4) with a four-run third.

A bases-loaded walk by Pete Burnside capped a two-run comeback in the ninth for the A's as they tagged the loss on Johnny Gahler (0-1). Bill Kunkel won his first in relief.

The Yankees did it on a two-out single by Tony Kubek in the ninth that beat Chet Nichols (0-1). Ralph Terry (2-0) gave up only three hits, but one was a tying homer by Gary Geiger in the eighth. Roger Maris hit a two-run homer off Boston starter Gene Conley.

Congress to Hear Appeal for More Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will address a joint session of Congress in person Thursday to ask increased funds for space, foreign aid and other spending.

House Majority Leader John W. McCormack, D-Mass., interrupted debate on a $12.5 billion defense authorization bill to announce the joint session to be held at 12:30 p.m.

Among other things, Kennedy is expected to ask Congress to support a sharply increased fallout shelter program for the protection of civilians against sneak nuclear attack.

The entire message is understood to be designed to provide a powerful stimulant to the American space program and to both the military and assistance arms of U.S. foreign policy.

It has been estimated to cost around $1 billion by some informants. There will be emphasis on aid to Asian and African countries, it was understood, but less money than originally contemplated for programs of public works and other measures designed to reduce unemployment.

Kennedy's decision to appear before Congress appeared to indicate that he places special importance on his requests.

It is rare for a president to make such an address except at the start of Congress, when he delivers his State of the Union message, or perhaps in time of war. Kennedy is not expected to put a price tag on the stepped-up shelter plans, officials said, but will indicate that a separate supplemental boost in the pending $104-million budget for the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization will be sent to Congress later.

OCMD Director Frank B. Ellis has been urging the White House to seek a $300-million increase, to be devoted exclusively to plans and surveys for sheltering almost the entire urban population, building and improving shelters in public buildings and providing aid to states and municipalities for the inclusion of shelters in their public structures.

Successor Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Paul Bumpers, Pastor of Jonesboro's First Methodist Church, is expected to succeed Dr. James Kenneth Shamblin as pastor of Pulaski Heights Methodist Church here. Bishop W. Kenneth Pope disclosed Tuesday that Shamblin will become pastor of the 4,000-member St. Luke's Methodist Church at Houston, Tex., next month.

Bids Opened on Highway Road Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Apparent low bids totaling $2,401,691 were opened by the Arkansas Highway Commission today on nine road and bridge projects.

No interstate highway work was included.

The largest job was for surfacing and bridges on 3.37 miles of Highway 64 between Fair Oaks and Wynne. D. F. Jones Construction Co., Inc., of Little Rock, was the apparent low bidder with $600,359.

The next largest project, for nearly eight miles of reconstruction, in three segments, on Highway 71 between Mountainburg and Winslow, drew an apparent low bid of $594,849 from Ben M. Hogan Co. of Little Rock.

Other jobs by counties with apparent low bidders and their bids

Lee—Two miles of surfacing on Highway 121 south of Marianna; Bucton Construction Co., Hazen, $86,760.

Ashley—4.12 miles of surfacing on Highway 8 between Beech Creek and Parkdale; L-S Co., Inc., Lake Village, $185,363.

Baxter—5.38 miles of surfacing on Highway 201 from Mountain Home north; Freshour Corp., Sweet Home, $198,402.

Ouachita—3.68 miles of surfacing on Highway 57 from Stephens north; J. Lester Booker Construction Co., Little Rock, $166,507.

Union—9.54 miles of surfacing on Highway 15 between Old Union and Pigeon Hill; S. M. Dixon Construction Co., Warren, $227,893.

Craighead—Surfacing of 5.12 miles on Highway 158 from junction of Highway 63 to Lunsford; Mississippi Valley Contracting Co., Paragould, $191,123.

Lonohe—Highway 70 drainage structures, APT Construction Co., North Little Rock, $90,635.

Hot Springs was first called, "Warm Springs".

Officer Is Assaulted by Negroes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An off-duty police officer who sought to arrest a Negro boy he said was riding a motorbike taken in a break-in at his home said Tuesday he was beaten by several Negroes before sheriff's officers arrived and broke up the mob.

John C. Farnam, 29, said the incident happened Monday at nearby College Station.

Farnam said he found three young Negro boys in the Little Rock east side house he was vacating. He said a motorbike, three rifles, a shotgun and a guitar were missing and there was considerable damage to his furniture.

The boys offered to lead him to another boy whom they said had the motorbike.

They drove to College Station and Farnam spotted his motorbike being ridden by a Negro boy about 12 years old. The officer took the boy into custody and went into a grocery store to call for sheriff's deputies.

Farnam said a group of Negroes gathered outside, demanding that he release the youth. When he refused, Farnam said, some of them attacked him.

When sheriff's deputies arrived they found Farnam pinned to the ground by about 15 Negroes. He was still holding the youth he found on his motorbike.

One Negro was arrested then and Sheriff L. C. Young Sr. ordered a round-up of "known troublemakers."

Several arrests were made Tuesday and two of those taken into custody, John Wesley Madlock, 20, and Willie W. Hadley, 27, were charged with inciting a riot and assault and battery.

Hopes Arkansas to Get Post

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—President Kennedy has named a Kansas City judge to the 8th U.S. Circuit of Appeals, but Arkansas still hopes that another position on the court will go to an Arkansas lawyer or judge.

U.S. District Judge Albert A. Ridge was nominated Tuesday to fill one of two vacancies on the appeals court. The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

U.S. District Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith has been backed by Sen. John L. McClellan for appointment to the appeals court.

The Steam Gun Fizzled For Its Union Captors

THE WINANS GUN, shown above, was captured on May 10 by Union troops near Baltimore while en route to Confederate forces at Harpers Ferry, Va. It was a centrifugal steam gun, protected by an iron cone and mounted on a four-wheel carriage. According to its patent holder, Charles S. Dickinson, the gun could fire any size ball from one ounce to 24 pounds at a rate of 100 to 500 per minute. Dickinson claimed it was better than an entire battery to defend a city or harbor and that it was capable of sinking any ordinary vessel or mowing down troops on the battlefield. Dickinson said it also was economical. Having captured the gun, Union forces set it up to protect a viaduct and an important junction near Baltimore but, like all centrifugal force guns, past and present, it proved to be a failure. The gun was named for mechanic-inventor Ross Winans, a Confederate sympathizer, who had previously successfully invented or improved locomotives and steamboats which were used here and abroad, and which served as models in the industries for several generations. However, Winans' products also led him into the courts. Just before the outbreak of war, Winans retired. He then represented Baltimore in the Maryland state legislature and was later arrested several times by the North on charges of treason, but was paroled each time.

CIVIL WAR ALBUM

Civil War's First Major Fatality

COL. ELMER E. ELLSWORTH, born in Mechanicsville, N.Y., had a common school education but, because he had no political connections and his family was too poor to send him to a good preparatory school, he was unable to attain his boyhood dream of entering West Point. So, after spending some time as a dry goods clerk, he went to Chicago. There he assumed command of a voluntary group of military cadets who were about to disband. He quickly shaped them up and taught them the flamboyant Zouave drill. So impressive was the group that they were sent east for exhibitions. After that, he caught the eye of Abraham Lincoln, who was then a presidential candidate (July, 1860). Ellsworth became a student in Lincoln's law office and later served as a member of the President's escort from Springfield to Washington, D.C., where Lincoln went in February, 1861, to assume the presidency. Ellsworth was considered the most pleasant and watchful member of the group. Before the war broke out, Ellsworth suggested that a militia bureau be set up and that he be made its chief. However, with the coming of the war, Ellsworth volunteered his services, trained members of New York City's fire department in Zouave drill and led them to Washington to await action. On May 24, 1861, when the North occupied Alexandria, Va., Ellsworth was killed at the age of 24 by a Confederate sympathizer.

COL. ELLSWORTH, since he was commander of the Fire Zouaves of New York, was the first major fatality of the war. When he and his men entered Alexandria, Col. Ellsworth saw a Confederate flag flying on top of the Marshall House, a hotel and tavern. He resolved to take it down. He did so but, as he was coming back down the stairs, he was fatally wounded by a single round of buckshot fired by the house's proprietor, James W. Jackson, a Confederate sympathizer. Union Pvt. Francis Brownell tried to push the gun aside but when that failed, he promptly killed Jackson. It once was rumored that Ellsworth was to be groomed for a high position in the War Department. Ellsworth's body lay in state in the White House and then was taken by a special train to New York and Albany and, finally, to Mechanicsville, his birthplace, where he was buried.

Kennedy Is Responsible in Race Fuss

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's only public statement so far on the Alabama race riots gave the attorney general, Robert Kennedy, sweeping power to "take all necessary steps" to handle the situation.

But, for the first time in American history, the attorney general happens to be the President's brother. Robert Kennedy has kept the President informed of every step taken.

Thus President Kennedy, more than might ordinarily be the case with some other chief executive and his attorney general, must bear responsibility for what his attorney general does.

So, if Southern Democrats in Congress or Southern politicians in general get sore at Robert Kennedy, they must get equally peeved at the President.

Nevertheless the President—by letting his brother do most of the talking and being fairly mild himself in his only statement—avoids angering Southerners in the way he might if he were more personally and publicly emphatic.

He has intervened directly, but quietly. For instance, in telephoning Alabama officials.

Still, the question he faces—whether or not to speak out more forcefully—is both psychological and political.

Many persons felt in 1957 that if President Dwight D. Eisenhower had spoken out more forcefully the Little Rock school riots might have been avoided.

On July 17 that year he told a news conference:

"I can't imagine any set of circumstances that would ever induce me to send federal troops into any area to enforce orders of a federal court, because I believe that common sense of America will never require it."

But a federal court had ordered integration of a Little Rock school and, within six weeks after Eisenhower deplored the thought of using troops, Gov. Orval Faubus called out the Arkansas National Guard to block integration.

In the end, Eisenhower had to do exactly what he had said he couldn't imagine doing: He sent federal troops into Little Rock to quell Faubus.

It is possible that if Eisenhower had been a lot tougher at that July 17 news conference, Faubus might have been discouraged from doing what he did.

It is also possible that if Kennedy had spoken out far more forcefully after the first Alabama riot—a riot against whites and Negroes riding buses to test the state's segregation laws — he might have chilled the mobs' subsequent viciousness.

The President apparently felt that the sweeping power he gave his brother would have the same psychological effect as if he himself had said more.

As it turned out, it didn't. The attorney general has sent hundreds of U. S. marshals into Alabama to be sure the bus riders are protected.

This may turn the trick. If the President had taken a more vigorous position, he undoubtedly would have antagonized a number of Southern Democrats at a time when he needs their help to pass important legislation in Congress.

Companies Reassuring the Public

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Industry in general and individual companies separately are taking steps to reassure the public on two points that have shaken confidence in business ethics in recent months:

1. Conflict of interest, where a company official may be putting his own gain ahead of his company's.

2. Antitrust conspiracies, where executives of competing companies may get together to fix prices to the purchaser's loss.

General rules of ethics are being formulated—one by businessmen at the request of Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, and others by business groups on their own. The Controllers Institute of America, for example, is issuing a list of helpful hints on how to keep out of conflict of interest trouble.

Corporations are restating, or drawing up, policies against violations of conflict of interest or of antitrust laws, and impressing these upon their executives and other employees.

An example of conflict of interest is where an official is in position to buy from a supplying firm in which he holds stock, or which gives him a kickback for the favor.

At a number of annual meetings this spring, company chiefs have gone out of their way to reassure stockholders that their management was doing all possible to see that their company didn't get involved in furors like those that have caused trouble for some others.

Take the Jersey Standard Oil meeting in Boston Wednesday. There the president, M. J. Rathbone, took note of these matters "receiving wide attention from stockholders this year." He assured Jersey shareholders that:

1. "Every director, officer, senior officer, senior executive, and other key employee is required to sign a statement each year...that neither he, nor any dependent member of his family, has interest which would violate" the company's policy against any conflict of interest.

2. "A clear, written policy (against violation of antitrust laws) has been disseminated widely...and is followed up by repeated verbal instructions and discussions with responsible executive employees."

The Controllers Institute of America takes the stand that the company controller or treasurer may be the logical executive to police such matters. So it has drawn up a report on how to cope with conflict of interest problems.

The report says the problem arises at two levels—the board of directors, and the operating staff. Four steps it urges companies to

Dollarway Plans Registration

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Children who are to enter the first grade next fall in the Dollarway School District, the object of a long-pending integration suit, will register next Monday and Tuesday.

Supt. Charles F. Falls said a child should register at the school his parents wish him to attend.

That doesn't necessarily mean he will be assigned to that school. The School Board has promised U. S. District Judge J. Smith Henley at Little Rock that it will give recognized qualification tests in implementing integration in the district.

Henley has tentatively approved the latest board plan for integration, which would confine its expansion at present to beginning first graders.

One Negro girl now is in the first grade of formerly all-white Dollarway School. She will be in the second grade at the school next fall.

Bonds Are Approved

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Three bond issues totaling $543,000 were approved by Garland County residents Tuesday and Hot Springs voters approved a $1 million issue to finance a recent expansion at the National Receptors Co. plant. Vote on the Hot Springs issue was 735 to 178. The countywide vote approved expansions and improvements at the Ouachita General Hospital, the Garland County Courthouse and the county library.

Light Turnout for Bond Vote

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A light turnout is expected today as the voters cast ballots on four bond issues totaling $1,543,000. Only city voters will decide on a proposed $1 million issue to finance a recent expansion at the National Receptors Co. plant. County voters will decide on three issues to expand the Ouachita General Hospital and the Garland County Library and to pay for improvements to the courthouse.

The Lighter Side of the News

By DICK WEST

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some four years ago, as the tax dollar flies, the U.S. Information Agency (USIA) upped its periscope in the Southern Hemisphere and sighted a large cultural gap.

Our Latin American neighbors, the USIA discovered, were having to struggle along without paperback books.

The publishers of that backway region, it seems, were bringing out books that were okay for reading but were too big to fit into the reader's pocket.

Moreover, they still clung to the quaint, old world notion that the place to sell a book was a bookstore.

As I understand the situation, a reader could spend hours searching through food and drug stores without finding a single reprint of Hlat's "Symposium" done up in a sexy cover.

All he could find were food and drugs.

It was with a view of rectifying this deplorable condition that the USIA, in 1957, gave Jose Ricardo Torfano, a Buenos Aires publisher, a grant to study U.S. paperback publishing and distributing methods.

Told in Testimony

What happened after that was told today in a paperback volume of testimony made public by a house appropriations subcommittee. It makes rather interesting reading.

You will get some idea of the plot when I tell you that the incident was related under the heading of "waste of taxpayers' funds with the publishing firm of Jose Torfano."

Upon his return to Argentina, Torfano undertook to establish, under a USIA subsidy, a continent-wide network for the publication and dissemination of paperbacks.

The contract, before it was terminated last year, cost the agency about $200,000. Part of that was a dead loss. Just how much the USIA doesn't know.

Doesn't Know Number

The reason it doesn't know how much it cost is because it doesn't know how many books Torfano published. The reason for that was explained by G. Lewis Schmidt, a SIA administrative officer.

"Initially when this subject was raised prior to the contract being written, he (Torfano) resorted to a rather characteristic stand on the part of South American publishers," Schmidt said.

They do tend to resent actual counts being made or inspections of the records being made."

Rather than risk offending Torfano, the USIA contracting officer omitted any provision for counting the books. There developed, however, a "strong presumption" that Torfano was fudging a bit.

This suspicion was aroused in part by a report by some printing experts indicating that Torfano's plant was not big enough to print as many books as he claimed to be producing.

Despite the indicated loss, I think it was a fair exchange. We brought paperbacks to South Americans and they taught us something about contracts.

Meeting Termed Not Practical

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today that a meeting between President Kennedy and Lt. Gen. Chang Do-yung of South Korea is "not practical or feasible at this time."

State Department press officer Lincoln White said Kennedy has a very crowded schedule. He said he assumes this obstacle to a meeting with the President has been explained to Chang by Marshall Green, ranking U.S. diplomat at Seoul.

The statement by White, in response to a question, was obviously a polite rejection—perhaps somewhat blunter than usual in diplomatic practice—to Chang's bid to come here.

Future Series Brings Many Opinions

Quickest changing Arkansas Developmental area is in farming, according to preliminary Arkansas Future Series opinion record returns.

Sampling of the opinions formed by over 50,000 Arkansans in the second week of series discussions also indicates that family and community living and industry are high in rate-of-change.

In a spot check of the opinion records, the Agricultural Extension Service has tabulated opinions indicating that a lack of job opportunities is an important problem or challenge that swift social and economic changes have caused. Trend in number of people and high taxes are next in importance among Series members.

Mid-point in the Series, which consists of four weekly discussion meetings in May, finds over 8,500 groups gathering to discuss factual material provided by the University of Arkansas Agricultural Extension Service. Last week the topic discussed was "A Changing Arkansas." This week, the topic will be "A Developing Arkansas" which emphasizes the state's development groups. The Arkansas Industrial Development Commission; the 126 Community Industrial Development Corporations now active in the state; community planning programs, the Industrial Research and Extension Center of the University of Arkansas; plus other important agencies and organizations are all concerting effort to spur industrialization.

Arkansas needs more industry, NOT less agriculture. Arkansas production of raw agricultural products has been growing well except for temporary setbacks due mainly to weather. In 1949 the state's receipts from farm products was $546 million. It reached a peak of $645 million in 1956 and, after falling nearly $100 million in 1957, climbed to a new high of $727 million in 1959.

Arkansas communities spend less for community services—streets, hospitals, health, police, fire, sewage disposal, parks and recreation—than do those in surrounding states. On a per capita basis, general expenditures for these items in Arkansas cities averaged $26.89, while in adjoining states the average was $23.29. Communities over the state averaged from a high of $62.76 to a low of $5.72.

The state maintains one vocational-technical school, accredited schools for blind and deaf children, the Arkansas Children's

Recess of French, Algerian Talks

EVIAN-LES-BAINS, France (AP)—The French-Algerian peace talks took another recess today while each side digested the first round of negotiating.

The French and Algerian rebel delegations, meeting under heavy guard in this resort beside Lake Geneva, agreed at the Tuesday session to meet every other day to give the opposing groups time for strategy sessions and consultations with their superiors in Paris and Tunis.

Colony for exceptional children, and eight institutions for higher education. And there are 12 private colleges. But on a comparative basis, there are grave deficiencies in the educational facilities.

C. A. Vines, Extension Director, says, "Developments of the past 14 years in Arkansas that have spurred Arkansas' industry to grow at a rate four times that of the U. S. rate are encouraging, but this will not supply all the answers. Only an aware public can bring the state to the balance of agriculture, manufacturing and business that is needed."

The final week of discussion among "Arkansas Future Series" groups will center around a fact sheet entitled "Arkansas' Future."

R. Kennedy Appeals for Restraint

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy today made a new appeal for "restraint" in relation to the "freedom riders" trip through the South, linking his plea to the international situation.

The attorney general issued a formal statement soon after the mixed white and Negro group, subjected to mob violence in Alabama, left Montgomery and headed for Mississippi conveyed by Alabama State Police.

Asking everyone concerned "to weigh their actions carefully," Kennedy said:

"I think we should all keep in mind that the President is about to embark on a mission of great importance. Whatever we do in the United States at this time which brings or causes discredit on our country, can be harmful to his mission."

He referred to the journey his brother, President John F. Kennedy, is making for conferences with Western allied leaders and a subsequent meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna.

Says Americans Too Indifferent

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Delegates to a five-state regional Civil Defense conference were told Tuesday night that the American people as a whole are dangerously indifferent to the problem of civil defense. Claude Carpenter, administrative assistant to Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., delivered an address prepared by Alford, who was unable to speak as scheduled because of the death of his mother-in-law Monday.

50 Counties Made Eligible for Relief

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus today signed an agreement with the federal government to make 50 Arkansas counties eligible for disaster relief money from Washington.

Leslie T. Holland of Denton, Tex., acting director of Civil Defense for Region 5, signed the agreement for the federal government.

Faubus said state and local governments already have spent more than $500,000 for disaster relief purposes. The agreement opens the door to an $800,000 fund set aside by President Kennedy on May 16 for disaster aid in Arkansas.

Holland said seven counties were added to the original list for which Faubus requested relief. They are Fulton, Jackson, Lee, Lonoke, Monroe Phillips Prairie and St. Francis counties.

Most of the newly-added counties suffered damage from rising rivers in the wake of flash floods in north Arkansas starting April 30.

A total of 12 persons died as a result of injuries in tornadoes and floods this month. A state CD officials calculated total damage at $50 million however, damage to public property such as roads and bridges was estimated at $1.2 million.

The federal money is reserved for repair or replacement of damaged public facilities.

Other counties are: Baxter, Benton, Boone, Carroll, Chicot Clark Clay Cleburne Cleveland Conway Craighead, Drew Fulton Faulkner, Garland, Greene, Howard Independence Izard Jefferson Johnson, Lawrence Logan, Madison, Marion, Mississippi Montgomery Newton Perry, Pike, Polk, Pope, Randolph, Scott, and Sevier, Sebastian, Sevier, Sharp Stone Van Buren Washington, White and Woodruff.

CHAPTER XXXIV

There had been no sound, but the door must have opened and created a small draft from the screened window to the hall. I felt a soft stirring of air across my face. I forced myself to lie still and kept my breathing deep and regular. The air became still and I knew the door was closed again, although I had not heard a sound.

There was a light, feathery touch on my shirt front, almost no touch at all, the smallest of contacts. I opened my eyes to fractional slits and through the blur of lashes saw a hand and a wrist directly beneath my chin. The fingers of the hand were sliding gently over my shirt beneath my open coat toward the left inside pocket where the mythical gun was supposed to be. That was enough for me. It was what I had hoped for.

My left hand moved like a striking rattler, grasped the wrist on my chest and in the same instant I brought up my knees. My right hand clamped onto the arm above the wrist and I jerked downward with all my strength. There was a grunt and I knew from the crushing weight that I was struggling with a man, but I could not see his face because the sheet had somehow become twisted over my eyes. Suddenly I lost my grasp on the arm and instantly something soft was pushed with terrifying force against my face and I could not breathe. A pillow, he was trying to smother me. I lurched violently and we thrashed together on the bed.

Abruptly the pillow was gone and I could breathe, but a hand clawed at my face and a thumb gouged my throat. I struck blindly, felt my fist strike flesh and bone. Then I was half off the bed, slipping to the floor in a tangle of sheet and spread. I rolled over as I hit the floor, fighting the encumbrances. I took a vicious kick on the point of a shoulder and pain seared through me. There came a foot pounding sound. I pushed myself to my knees, saw the man as I flung myself forward. I caught him around the knees and we landed in the hall halfway through the door. He kicked wildly, but I held on until I could push forward and straddle his back. I got a fistful of black hair and jerked his head around, glared down at him panting.

"I thought so," I said to William Darmody. He struggled a little, but his heart wasn't in it, and after I'd batted his head against the floor a few times he lay still. I rose to a crouch, rolled him over on his back and sat on his stomach.

"Where's the gun?" I asked him. He looked up at me blankly. "You can hear me," I shook a fist under his nose.

He held up his left palm and made writing motions on it with his right hand.

His gaze was sad and reproachful. I wavered a little. Slowly released him, pushed myself upward and stood aside. I watched him narrowly as he got to his feet, jerked down his cuffs and passed

Organizers Jailed in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—South African security police in pre-dawn raids today arrested nonwhite organizers of a three-day nationwide strike proclaimed for next Monday.

Among those reported seized were members of the All-In-African National Council which planned the strike in demand of political rights for the nation's nonwhite majority. The strike will precede the proclamation of the South African republic May 31.

fingers through his black hair. He nodded at my room, asking permission. I nodded back, followed him inside and closed the door. He sat on the rumpled bed, produced a pencil and his pad of blue note paper and began to write. I waited silently while he filled two sheets. He tore them off and handed them to me.

I read: "I was trying to protect Mr. Stockmaster. Because of my affliction it has been difficult for me to find work. But he hired me and I am grateful to him. He told me early this morning that he killed Miss Reynolds during an argument over her marriage to Mr. Daney. An accident, he said, with her gun. He threw the gun away, he didn't remember where. He thought you had found it. He asked me to get it from you, to prevent you from turning it over to the police. His fingerprints, you see? I agreed to try and get the gun from you—your intoxication act was quite convincing and I thought it would be easy. I took the precaution of asking the maid to check on you first. I told her I was concerned about you and asked her to come up here to see if you were all right. When her report convinced me that you were sound asleep I came here, on Mr. Stockmaster's behalf. This is the truth."

I turned over the sheets, took the pencil from Darmody and wrote: "You asked the maid in writing?"

He took a wrinkled sheet of paper from a coat pocket and handed it to me. It was there, all right, his request to Florine and her penciled report. "I'm a little concerned about Mr. Bennett. Would you please go up and see if he's all right?" Beneath Darmody's handwriting was a penciled scrawl: "Mr. Bennett is sound asleep. I spoke to him, but he didn't wake up."

Facts of Life Around Areas in Arkansas

By BOB HARKING
Associated Press Staff Writer

Every cloud may not have a silver lining, but the cloud that burst on Harrison May 7 brought new evidence that people, by and large, can be pretty decent folk. Dozens of offers of aid and assistance came in from all over the state and elsewhere. Two examples:

Pete Vaughn of Russellville had 900 dresses and 40 coats to be washed and dried for a flood-stricken Harrison merchant. John and Eula Holbrook started on them, working after hours, but it became apparent they'd never get them all done before midweek set in. Haskell Horton and Bobby Wilson responded to their call for help. The Holbrooks, Wilson and Horton neglected regular business to get the Harrison job done—even though their fee just about covered expenses.

And in Pine Bluff Mrs. Lucy Cantley has started collecting books to be sent to Harrison, where the 14-foot flood damaged the school library. The Boone County Library also lost some books which were checked out.

All the rain has brought its tragedy and misfortune, but, says Joe Robinson of Springdale, it's also done some good.

Robinson, a member of the state Game and Fish Commission, noted that Lake Elm Dale in the Fayetteville-Springdale area went 12 inches over the spillway last week, the first time it's topped the spillway since June of 1957.

Helena's skyscraper will be a bank building soon.

The Solomon Building, at five stories Helena's tallest, has been sold to the Helena National Bank Building, Inc. After remodeling, the building will become the home of the Helena National Bank.

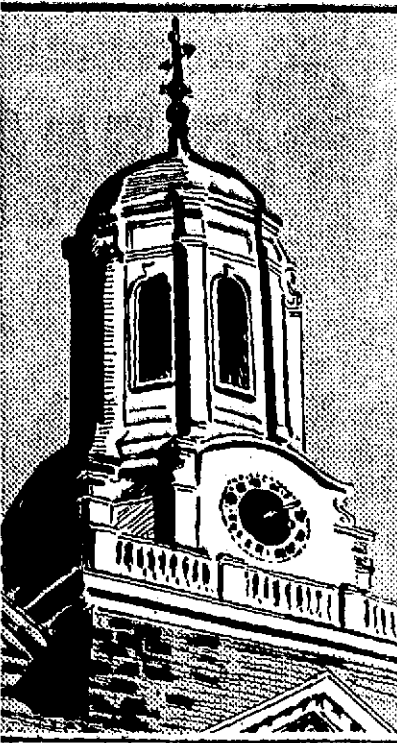

Garth Whipple's power mower went on the blink. So the Russellville editor hauled out an old hand-powered job to trim the lawn.

Observing, a neighbor boy about six years old commented: "Gee, look at the crazy mower, it's lost its motor."

Bert Atkins, manager of a Bald Knob strawberry processing plant, remarked of his approaching birthday, "I'll be 50 years old and this one will be the last, boys."

The "boys" surprised Atkins on the appointed day with a party—featuring a yard-long birthday cake inscribed, "This'll be the last boys."

From the editor of the Harrison Times: "A political doll is on the market. It talks but it doesn't say anything."

SCHOOL FOR PRESIDENTS—The famous clock tower of Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass., appropriately illustrates one fact in the lives of six U.S. presidents. All graduated from this university. They are: John Adams (1755), John Quincy Adams (1787), Rutherford B. Hayes (Harvard Law School, 1845), Theodore Roosevelt (1880), Franklin D. Roosevelt (1904) and John F. Kennedy (1940). Closest runner-up school in this category is the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., which three presidents attended (Jefferson, Monroe and Tyler).

Man Finds Own Sense of Uplift

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"You have to have an ego satisfaction in life or it isn't worth living," said Jack Winter. "You have to create—you must have a sense of uplift."

Winter has found his own sense of uplift. He is the world's largest manufacturer of women's costume pants.

Women now buy between 25 and 30 million pairs of pants a year—"please don't call them slacks, the word slacks has a sound of looseness"—and the fact that America's new First Lady wears pants has been a big source of satisfaction to the industry.

"So far as we know Jacqueline Kennedy is the first mistress of the White House to wear them," said Winter, whose Milwaukee firm turns out more than two million pairs a year.

The leaders in this field estimate that the impact of Mrs. J. F. Kennedy's fondness for pants will boom the output 25 per cent this year. She is the first U.S. president's wife in a long time who has the sense of personal style to establish an American fashion in women's wear.

But Winter's success formula didn't spring from Mrs. Kennedy's acceptance of pants.

Many parents complain today about the problem of dealing with teen-age children. Jack Winter is the only businessman I have met who proudly credits a teen-age son with giving him a million-dollar idea.

In 1934 he was selling and buying in a retail store, and in an early-day moonlighting operation started making men's pants as a sideline.

"It was a basement operation," he recalled. "I started with $2,500 and the first few years I felt lucky if I did $20,000 business a year."

"We moved out to the suburbs about 10 years ago. My son Jack was then 15 and my other son, Michael, was 10."

"My wife and I went to their school activities. Both boys attracted the girls. I noticed more and more that Jack's girl friends were going in for casual wear, and so were their mothers."

"That gave me the idea for concentrating on pants for women, instead of pants for men. It also helped to convince me that my own wife, Muriel, who is a high-style person, liked to wear pants."

"If I have had any success, I owe it to my own family."

The big market for women's pants is among high school and college girls and young married women, but they also have a widening market—figuratively speaking—among older women, including grandmothers.

FILMS PILE UP—Actor Steve McQueen, he of the "Wanted—Dead or Alive" career on TV, is in great demand by the moviemakers. Currently he's in "The Honey Moon Machine," then in rapid order will come "Hell Is for Heroes" and "The Great Escape."

CINDERELLA—Northwestern University's loss is Hollywood's good fortune. From campus to stardom in one year is the lot of Paula Prentiss, whose Cinderella's glass slippers have whisked her through "Where the Boys Are" and "The Honey Moon Machine" and, coming up, "Bachelor in Paradise."

Beef Could Be Making a Comeback

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef makes a comeback this week as the top featured meat among weekend specials of supermarkets and neighborhood stores.

For the past two weeks fish and fowl were the leaders.

Stores around the country are posting bargain prices for steaks, rib roasts and chuck roasts.

However, pork, fowl and fish are being given a good share of the spotlight.

Eggs prices are inching downward with declines for a dozen large whites ranging from two to four cents in various parts of the country.

A great variety of new vegetables is arriving on the market. These include Broccoli, escarole and beets from Virginia; green peas and red cabbage from North Carolina; field peas and red cabbage from South Carolina; iceberg and romaine lettuce, white turnips, onion and escarole from New Jersey.

New fruit arrivals are plums from Texas, mangoes from Florida and strawberries from New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

Best buys among vegetables are snap beans, corn, eggplant, green onions, radishes, kale, mustard, hamster salad, turnip tops, new potatoes from Florida, old crop potatoes from Maine, spinach, parsley, rhubarb, tomatoes and broccoli.

Oranges and grapefruit are best buys among fruits.

Good buys are watermelon, honeydew melons, strawberries, bananas and lemons.

Son of Arthur Lake Jailed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) Police are holding the teen-age son of actor Arthur Lake on the accusation he helped rob a man of $1.93 in Palisades Park.

Arthur P. Lake Jr., 18, whose father has portrayed "Dagwood" on the screen, radio and TV, was booked on suspicion of robbery Tuesday along with Jan Paul Anderson, 18, and a 17-year-old youth whose name was not released.

6,000 for Draft

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has asked that 6,000 men be inducted into the Army during July.

The draft request was the first since April when 1,500 men were called up.

Billy Graham Has Bronchial Trouble

LONDON (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham was confined to his hotel room today with a severe bronchial infection and his doctor barred visitors.

Graham arrived at Southampton on the liner Queen Mary Monday to begin a scheduled three-week campaign of revival meetings. He already has been forced to cancel meetings in London and Swansea, Wales.

No Segregation

DETROIT (AP)—New York's Metropolitan Opera Co., won't play before segregated audiences in the south any more.

Rudolf Bing, the Met's general manager, said Tuesday the company "can't afford" to do so.

Bing said he had informed patrons in Atlanta and Dallas, where the Met makes regular stops, that it could no longer give performances in those cities.
